

Vocals

African Pygmy Dormice sounds include an insect-like clicking, an enquiring 'thrumming' sound, and a sharp bark when distressed. Baby Dormice will make a faint click/zipping noise or high pitched clicking noise when distressed.

The sounds are surprisingly loud for such small creatures with some colonies being extremely vocal.